

Scopus serves the oil and gas, nuclear, power and defence industries worldwide through the provision of dimensional control, laser scanning surveys and lean engineering services adding value to its customers worldwide:

- Dimensional control survey and laser scanning survey services and technical data management for optimising design solutions for manufacturing, research and development applications of space management and engineering design
- management of manufacture of pipe-work and structural systems and assemblies
- provision of engineering design, drafting and technical support services for delivery of engineering solutions
- provision of ad-hoc campaign construction services

Scopus Leadership Team is committed to:

- meet or exceed our customers' requirements
- comply with all relevant contractual and regulatory requirements
- achieve the Scopus business objectives
- promote and support the implementation of the Scopus Business Management System

In conducting our business, we aim for:

- achieve the highest levels of safety, quality and technical integrity
- continual improvement of our products and services
- meet or exceed agreed Statement of Requirements
- ethical dealing with all stakeholders
- all employees to utilize the Scopus Business Management System

To ensure all our goods or services conform to our high standards and objectives:

- we maintain a Quality Management System that is accredited to the ISO9001 standard
- we review the effectiveness of the Quality Management System at regular intervals
- we monitor our achievements against a formal developed Quality Plan continuously
- we define the methods by which we may all carry out tasks and fulfil our responsibilities

The Scopus Leadership Team is committed to the implementation of the principles of this policy and will make adequate resources available to ensure the Company's Management Systems are effective and successful.

All Scopus employees have a responsibility to take an active part in the successful implementation and maintenance of the system.

The implementation and maintenance of this policy statement is the responsibility of the Managing Director and shall be clearly communicated throughout the company.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "G. Wilson".

Graeme Wilson
Managing Director

27th August 2020